ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The production of this report would not have been possible without the concerted effort of the police departments and sheriff's offices throughout the State of Wyoming who report accurately and regularly to the Wyoming Uniform Crime Reporting Program Section of the Center for Criminal Justice Research. The significance of their contribution is demonstrated in this report which presents detailed information on the extent and fluctuation of crime in Wyoming.

INTRODUCTION

This annual report of Crime in Wyoming, 1981, contains law enforcement data compiled from Uniform Crime Reporting (UCR) records. These records were designed to collect pertinent statistical law enforcement data at the city and county levels and were developed in compliance with the Federal Bureau of Investigation's Uniform Crime Reporting Program Standards and definitions.

Local law enforcement agencies prepare UCR forms containing offense, clearance, arrest and supplemental information and submit the reports on a monthly basis to the State UCR Section of the Center for Criminal Justice Research, Division of Criminal Identification, Office of the Attorney General.[1] The UCR Section then verifies the reports, automates the data for later analysis at the State level and then forwards the reports to the FBI for use in compilation and analysis of national crime statistics.

It is important to note certain constraints which should be exercised in interpreting and drawing conclusions from the data contained herein. Although Wyoming has yet to achieve 100 percent reporting,66 individual agencies currently report and these agencies serve jurisdictions representing 94.7 percent of the State's population.[2] Twenty-two of these agencies are sheriff's offices and forty-five are police departments.

[1]See W.S. 1977 §7-1-122 for legislation mandating the reporting of crime information to the Attorney General's Office.

[2]The population figures used in preparing this report are estimates calculated from population data from the U.S. Department of Commerce-Bureau of the Census and the Division of Research and Statistics - Department of Administration and Fiscal Control - State of Wyoming.

Additionally, there are other inherent limitations in the current crime reporting practices. Of primary importance is the question of how much crime is being reported. Law enforcement agencies are capable only of reporting crimes known to them. In many instances, citizens do not report crimes directly to these agencies but may report them to the prosecuting authorities. A considerable volume of crime is not reported to law enforcement agencies because the victims may consider the offenses against them to be of little consequence, they may believe there is nothing the police can do about them, or they may fear retaliation from the offender. Consequently, information concerning some offenses is never entered into the present statistical reporting system.

Further, only arrest data is submitted on Part II Offenses.[3] Therefore, current UCR statistics do not necessarily measure the true incidence of crimes or the actual economic loss incurred by victims.

Crimes and arrests should not be compared on a one-to-one basis; a crime is an event and an arrest relates to an individual. For example, several crimes may be solved by one arrest or many persons can be arrested for committing one crime.

The information presented in this report portrays the most accurate and realistic assessment currently available of the crime situation in Wyoming. UCR statistics are not designed as an indicator of agency activity for use in direct comparison, but rather pertain to a specific geographic area. A causal relationship exists between crime and many socio-economic factors. However, reported crime activity is a measurable quantity and, as such, should be used to present the clearest possible picture of the dimensions, fluctuations and impact of crime in Wyoming.

CRIME INDEX

Volume

During the period of January through December, 1981, 8.5 percent more Crime Index Offenses were reported or known to the police than in the previous year.[4] During 1981, 24,755 Crime Index Offenses came to the attention of law enforcement officials compared to 22,785 in 1980.

The offenses which make up the Crime Index are all serious, either by their very nature or because of the frequency with which they occur, and present a common enforcement problem to all law enforcement agencies. Crimes within this Index are categorized as Violent Crimes (which include murder, forcible rape, robbery, and aggravated assault) or Property Crimes (which include burglary, larceny-theft and motor vehicle theft). By congressional mandate, Arson was added as the eighth Crime Index Offense in late 1978. Although Arson has been reclassified to an Index Offense, data collection is separate and will be presented independently of other offense data in this report.

Violent Crimes

Violent crimes involve the element of personal confrontation between the perpetrator and victim, and entail the use or threat of force or violence. By their very nature, violent crimes are considered more serious than property crimes. The violent crimes, as a group, rose 12.2 percent.

[4]This figure was calculated by making a comparison on an agency-by-agency basis in which those agencies where reports are on file for the same months for 1980 and 1981 were compared. When interpreting PERCENT CHANGE figures throughout this report, caution must be used since a slight increase or decrease in the number of actual reported offenses may dictate a large percent change due to the relatively small volume of offenses.

While decreases were noted in the murder and robbery offense classifications at 7.1 and 2.5 percent respectively, a gain of 27.6 percent was evidenced in the forcible rape classification and 13.3 percent was evidenced in the aggravated assault category when compared with 1980. These offenses for 1981 made up 8.2 percent of the total Crime Index compared to 8.0 percent in 1980.

Property Crimes

Property crimes do not involve the use or threat of violence, but entail property taken from one by another. Collectively, the number of property crimes increased 8.1 percent in volume compared to one year ago. Burglary was up 12.8 percent, larceny-theft rose 8.8 percent while motor vehicle theft was down 10.2 percent. Property crimes accounted for 91.8 percent of the total Crime Index for 1981 compared to 92.0 percent for 1980.

Crime Rate

During 1981, the crime rate per 10,000 inhabitants in Wyoming for all Index Offenses was 544.1, which represents an increase of 8.8 percent over the 1980 rate of 499.9 per 10,000 inhabitants. Categorically, the rate per 10,000 for violent crimes was 43.5 in 1981 and 39.9 per 10,000 in 1980. Property crimes also experienced an increase, from a rate of 459.0 per 10,000 in 1980 to 500.6 for 1981.

Clearances

For Uniform Crime Reporting purposes, an Index Offense is cleared when 1) a law enforcement agency has identified the offender, 2) there is enough evidence to charge him, and 3) he is actually taken into custody.

The arrest of one person can clear several crimes or several persons may be arrested in the process of clearing one offense. Clearances are also recorded in exceptional circumstances when some element beyond the control of the law enforcement agency precludes formal charges being brought against the offender.

Of the 24,755 offenses reported to the police during 1981, 5,223 were cleared for an overall clearance rate of 21.1 percent. Violent crimes evidenced a substantially higher clearance rate than property crimes, with 48.4 percent of the violent crimes resulting in a clearance, while only 18.7 percent of the property crimes were cleared.

Clearances involving only persons under eighteen years of age accounted for 24.9 percent of the total clearances reported in 1981. During this reporting period, 1,303 clearances involving only persons under eighteen years of age were reported, of which 5.1 percent or 67 were for violent crimes and the remaining 94.1 percent of 1,236 were property related crimes. The main juvenile involvement was within the larceny-theft category which accounted for 69.1 percent of all juvenile clearances.

The relatively high clearance rate for violent crimes compared to the non-violent property crimes is due in part to the volume difference between the two groups. The volume of property crime is much greater than that of violent crime and police investigation of violent crime is usually more intensive. The element of confrontation between the victim and the perpetrator may also contribute to the higher clearance rate for violent crimes.

Stolen Property Value

The value of property stolen incidental to Crime Index Offenses in Wyoming during 1981 totaled $15,902,364, compared to $15,451,465 stolen during 1980. This represents an increase of 2.9 percent. Law enforcement officials were successful in recovering 44.4 percent of the loss, or $7,066,552 resulting in a net loss of $8,835.811.

Arson

A decrease of 9.9 percent was noted in the number of arson offenses reported or known to Wyoming law enforcment agencies during 1981. Arson offenses totaled 139 in 1981 compared to 154 during 1980. Of the 139 reported arsons during this period, 33 or 23.7 percent were cleared, compared to 50 clearances, or 32.5 percent during 1980. Property damage totaled $2,870,950, which is 66.5 percent less than the $8,574,687 estimated property damage during 1980.

Seasonal Fluctuations

The monthly totals for reported Crime Index Offenses for 1981 and 1980 illustrate that the summer months generally are the high crime months with July the peak month for both years. Quarterly, the period of July through September, during 1981 and 1980 had the highest volume of reported Index Offenses. Semi-annually, the first six months of both comparative years, recorded fewer reported offenses than the last six months of each year.

CRIMINAL HOMICIDE

Murder

Murder and non-negligent manslaughter are defined for the Uniform Crime Reporting Program as the willful (non-negligent) killing of one human being by another. One offense is counted for each person willfully killed by another. As a general rule, any death due to a fight, argument, quarrel, assault, or commission of a crime is included. Attempted murders and assaults to murder are scored as aggravated assaults and not as murder. Also excluded are suicides, accidental deaths, and justifiable homicides.

During the period January through December, 1981, 26 murders for a rate of 0.6 per 10,000, were reported or known to the police, compared to 29 murders, 0.6 per 10,000, in 1980. A comparison on an agency-by-agency basis reflects a 7.1 percent decrease in the number of murders known to the police compared to 1980. Of the 26 murders during 1981, 25 offenses have been reported as cleared for a clearance rate of 96.2 percent, compared to 100.0 percent or 29 clearances during 1980. The value of property stolen incidental to the 29 offenses of murder occurring in 1981 totaled $13,560. Nothing was reported stolen in 1980. Offenses of murder account for 0.10 percent of the total Index Offenses reported or known to the police during 1981 compared to 0.12 percent in 1980.

In all cases of murder reported in the Uniform Crime Reporting Program, a supplemental homicide report is submitted by the participating law enforcement agency.

This report provides pertinent information consisting of a situation code; the age, sex and race of victims and offenders where known; the weapon used; the relationship of the victim to the offender; and any circumstances or motives which led to the commission of the crime.

Presented in the following tables is a summary of offense, victim and offender information on the homicides reported during 1981 from these reports.

MANSLAUGHTER BY NEGLIGENCE

Manslaughter by negligence is defined as the killing of another person through gross negligence. Generally, deaths caused by the gross negligence of another are counted. One offense is scored for each person killed. The death of a person caused by his own negligence is not counted as an offense. Also excluded are traffic fatalities. While manslaughter by negligence is a Part I crime, it is not included in the Crime Index.

During 1981, no offenses of manslaughter by negligence were reported or known to the police as compared to four (4) offenses in 1980.

FORCIBLE RAPE

Forcible Rape is defined in the Uniform Crime Reporting Program as the carnal knowledge of a female forcibly and against her will. Included in this offense category are attempts or assaults to commit rape. Statutory rape (without force) and other sex offenses are not included in this category. One offense is counted for each female raped or upon whom an assault or attempt has been committed.

During 1981, 164 forcible rapes were reported or known to the police as compared to 131 in 1980. A comparison on an agency-by-agency basis indicates a 27.6 percent increase in the volume of rapes was experienced in 1981 over 1980. Of the 164 forcible rapes reported during 1981, 99 have been cleared for a clearance rate of 60.4 percent as compared to 63 clearances or 48.1 percent in 1980. In 1981, property loss in the rape category was reported at $1,424, compared to $445 in 1980. Offenses of forcible rape and attempts to commit forcible rape account for 0.66 percent of the total Index Offenses reported or known to the police during 1981, compared to 0.57 percent in 1980.

By Uniform Crime Reporting definitions, the victims of forcible rape are always female. Given this fact, a more accurate account of the victimization rate for this offense requires excluding males from the population base figure. For 1981, it has been estimated that 49.9 percent of the State's population is female, or 223,883 persons, which represents the covered female population for calculating crime rates. This represents a rate of 7.0 forcible or attempted rapes per 10,000 females. It is important to note that victimization studies in recent years indicate that offenses of rape are not equally distributed throughout the female population; very young and very old females are victimized much less frequently than the young to middle-aged females. With this fact in mind, a separate victimization rate was calculated for females between the ages of 14 and 64 years. The victimization rate for this subpopulation of females is substantially greater, rising to 10.7 victimizations per 10,000 females.

Though the UCR Program does not collect age data, it is believed that the exclusion of females below 14 and above 64 years of age will have no more than a negligible effect on the validity of these figures.

	TOTAL NUMBER OF PERSONS	RAPES KNOWN TO POLICE[8]	RATE PER 10,000	RATIO OF RAPES TO WOMEN
ALL FEMALES[7]	223,883	164	7.0	1:1,426
FEMALES 14 to 64[9]	146,061	164	10.7	1: 930

[7]The percentage of the States' population that is female and that portion from 14 to 64 is based on data compiled by the Division of Research and Statistics, Department of Administration and Fiscal Control, State of Wyoming, Wyoming Population and Employment Forecast, 4th Edition, November-1981.

[8]In order to calculate crime rates, agencies with less than twelve months on file during 1981 were subtracted from offense and population totals. The number of offenses used in calculating crime rates in the forcible rape classification is 157.

ROBBERY

Robbery is defined as the taking or attempting to take anything of value from the care, custody or control of a person or persons by force or threat of force or violence and/or putting the victim in fear. In any instance of robbery, one offense is counted for each distinct operation. The number of persons robbed or those present at the robbery are disregarded. Additionally, the number of persons committing the crime has no reflection on the number of offenses being counted.

During the period January through December 1981, 201 robberies, for a rate of 4.4 per 10,000, were reported or known to the police, compared to 207 robberies, a rate of 4.5 per 10,000, during 1980. An agency-by-agency comparison with the same months for the two years indicates a 2.5 percent decrease in the number of offenses over January through December 1980. Of the 201 robberies during 1981, 63 have been cleared for a clearance rate of 31.3 percent compared to a clearance rate of 45.4 percent or 94 clearances of robbery during 1980. The value of property stolen in robberies during 1981 was slightly over 4 times that stolen in 1980. The value of property stolen in 1981 totaled $570,248 compared to $141,939 stolen in 1980. Of the $570,248 stolen in robberies during 1981, $427,622 was stolen in residential robberies (75.0 percent), with robberies of the highway category reflecting the second largest category at $61,512 or 10.8 percent of the total robbery loss. Robbery offenses account for 0.81 percent of the total Index Offenses reported or known to the police during January through December 1981, down from the 0.90 percent noted in 1980.

ASSAULT

Aggravated Assault

Aggravated assault is defined as an unlawful attack by one person upon another for the purpose of inflicting severe or aggravated bodily injury. This type of assault is usually accompanied by the use of a weapon or by means likely to produce death or great bodily harm. Attempts are included since it is not necessary that an injury result when a gun, knife, or other weapon is used which could, and probably would result in serious personal injury were the crime successfully completed. One offense is scored for each person assaulted or upon whom an attempt to assault has been made.

During the period, January through December 1981, 1,646 aggravated assaults were reported or known to the police for a rate of 35.0 per 10,000 as compared to 1,457 aggravated assaults, a rate of 31.9 per 10,000 in 1980. An agency-by-agency comparison with the same months for the two years reflects a 13.3 percent increase in the number of offenses during 1981. Of the 1,646 aggravated assaults reported during 1981, 799 have been cleared accounting for a clearance rate of 48.5 percent, compared to a clearance rate of 50.4 percent, or 735 clearances of aggravated assault during 1980. Offenses of aggravated assault account for 6.6 percent of the total Index Offenses reported or known to the police during January through December, 1981, compared to 6.4 percent in 1980.

Simple Assault

This category is for all assaults which did not involve the use of a firearm, knife or cutting instrument, or other dangerous weapon and there was no serious or aggravated injury to the victim. Simple assault is a Part II Offense, not a Crime Index Offense, but is collected under the assault category for quality control and for the purpose of reviewing total assaultive violence.

During the period January through December 1981, 1,476 simple assaults were reported or known to the police, a rate of 32.8 per 10,000, compared to 1,240 offenses, a rate of 27.2 per 10,000, of simple assault for 1980. An agency-by-agency comparison with the same months for the two years reflects a 16.5 percent increase in the number of simple assaults reported over 1980. Of the 1,476 simple assaults reported during 1981, 915 have been cleared, for a clearance rate of 62.0 percent. This compares to a clearance rate of 61.9 percent, or 768 clearances of simple assault during 1980. Simple assaults accounted for 47.3 percent of the total offenses in the assault category during 1981, compared to 46.0 percent for 1980.

LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICERS ASSAULTED

Included are all assaults on officers who have full arrest powers in which the officer sustained serious injury or in which a weapon was used which could have caused serious injury or death. Also counted are those sworn officers who were not injured, provided the assault was more than mere verbal abuse or minor resistance to an arrest. When an officer is assaulted in the line of duty, even though in an "off duty" status where he is performing official law enforcement duties, an assault is counted.

An average rate of 13 of every 100 law enforcement officers statewide were assaulted in 1981 as compared to a rate of 10 per 100 officers in 1980. During 1981, 162 assaults on law enforcement officers were reported compared to 115 assaults in 1980 portraying an increase of 40.9 percent. Of the 162 assaults during 1981, 99.4 percent or 161 of these assaults have been cleared as compared to 108 clearances or 93.9 percent in 1980. Injuries were sustained in 46 of the 162 assaults on officers during 1981 as compared to 33 in 1980 which represents a 39.4 percent increase in the number of injurious assaults.

In all cases of assaults on law enforcement officers reported in the Uniform Crime Reporting Program, a supplemental report is submitted by the participating law enforcement agency. This report provides detailed information regarding a particular assault on a law enforcement officer. Such supplemental reports categorize the type of activity, type of weapon, type of assignment, assaults cleared, whether the assault resulted in injury by weapon category and the time of occurrence.

Presented in the following tables is a summary of the January through December, 1981 period from these supplemental reports.

BURGLARY

The Uniform Crime Reporting Program defines burglary as the unlawful entry of a structure to commit a felony or theft. The use of force to gain entry is not required to classify an offense as burglary. Burglary in this Program is categorized into three subclassifications: forcible entry, unlawful entry where no force is used, and attempted forcible entry. One offense is counted for each distinct operation.

During the period of January through December, 1981, 4,639 burglaries were reported or known to the police compared to 4,136 burglaries during 1980. An agency-by-agency comparison with the same months on file for the two years, reflects a 12.8 percent increase in the number of offenses over 1980. The 1981 rate per 10,000 persons in the State is 102.3 compared to a rate of 90.6 per 10,000 in 1980. Of the 4,639 burglaries during 1981, 931 have been cleared for a clearance rate of 20.1 percent. This compares to a clearance rate of 19.2 percent or 794 clearances of burglary offenses during 1980. The value of property stolen during 1981 increased by $819,202 or 27.6 percent over 1980. A total of $3,791,530 was stolen in burglaries in 1981 as compared to $2,972,328 in 1980. Of all burglaries during 1981, 55.6 percent involved residences compared to 59.2 percent during 1980.

Offenses of burglary account for 18.7 percent of the total Index Offenses reported or known to the police during 1981, as compared to 18.2 percent for 1980.

LARCENY - THEFT

Larceny-theft is defined as the unlawful taking, carrying, leading or riding away of property from the possession or constructive possession of another. It includes crimes such as shoplifting, pocket-picking, purse-snatching, thefts from motor vehicles, thefts of motor vehicle parts and accessories, bicycle theft, etc., in which no use of force, violence or fraud occurs. In the Uniform Crime Reporting Program this crime category does not include embezzlement, "con" games, forgery and worthless checks. Motor vehicle theft is also excluded from this category for crime reporting purposes inasmuch as it is a separate Crime Index Offense. One offense is counted for each distinct operation.

During the period, January through December 1981, 16,675 larcenies were reported or known to the police, compared to 15,243 larcenies one year ago. The rate per 10,000 persons in the State climbed from 333.8 in 1980 to 367.4 in 1981. An agency-by-agency comparison with the same months for the two years reflects an 8.8 percent increase in the number of larcenies over 1980. Of the 16,675 larcenies reported during 1981, 2,817 have been cleared for a clearance rate of 16.9 percent. This compares to 16.3 percent, or 2,485 clearances of larceny during 1980. Of the total larcenies reported during 1981, 31.4 percent were under $50 in value, 35.5 percent were $50 to $200 in value and 33.1 percent were over $200 in value. Larceny offenses accounted for 67.4 percent of the total Index Offenses reported to the police during 1981, compared to 66.9 percent during 1980.

MOTOR VEHICLE THEFT

In Uniform Crime Reporting, motor vehicle theft is defined as the theft or attempted theft of a motor vehicle. This definition excludes the taking of a motor vehicle for temporary use by those persons having lawful access. Also excluded are thefts of farm equipment, construction equipment, airplanes and motor boats, the theft of which is scored as a larceny. One offense is counted for each vehicle stolen or where an attempt is made to steal a motor vehicle.

During the period of January through December, 1981, 1,404 thefts of motor vehicles were reported or known to the police, compared to 1,582 motor vehicle thefts in 1980. An agency-by-agency comparison with the same months for the two years reflects a 10.2 percent decrease in the number of motor vehicle thefts compared to 1980. Of the 1,404 motor vehicle thefts reported during 1981, 489 have been cleared for a clearance rate of 34.8 percent. This compares to 35.9 percent, or 568 clearances during 1980. During 1981, the value of motor vehicles stolen totalled $5,567,019, down 21.3 percent from the $7,072,235 reported stolen in 1980.

Offenses of motor vehicle theft accounted for 5.7 percent of the total reported Index Offenses during 1981 and accounted for 35.0 percent of the total value of stolen property. This compares with 6.9 percent and 45.8 percent, in each of the respective categories for 1980.

The motor vehicle theft rate of 30.9 offenses per 10,000 inhabitants in 1981 was down from the 34.6 per 10,000 in 1980. In 1981, an average of 1 of every 351 registered motor vehicles was stolen statewide compared to 1 of every 300 in 1980. The 1981 rate per 10,000 registered motor vehicles was 28.0 compared to a rate of 33.4 per 10,000 registered vehicles in 1980.

[10] In order to calculate crime rates, agencies with less than twelve months in file during 1981 were subtracted from offense and population totals. The number of offenses used in calculating the crime rate for motor vehicle theft is 1,386.

ARSON

Arson, established as a Crime Index Offense in late 1978 by congressional mandate, is defined as any willful or malicious burning or attempt to burn, with or without intent to defraud, a dwelling house, public building, motor vehicle or aircraft, personal property of another, etc.

During the period, January through December, 1981, 139 arsons were reported or known to the police, compared to 154 arsons for 1980, indicating a 9.9 percent decrease. The rate per 10,000 persons in the State was down from the 3.4 per 10,000 in 1980 to 3.1 per 10,000 persons in 1981.

Of the 139 arsons reported during 1981, 33 have been cleared for a clearance rate of 23.7 percent. This compares to 50 clearances or 32.5 percent for 1980. Clearances involving only juveniles accounted for 42.4 percent of the total clearances during 1981 compared to 56.0 percent during 1980.

Estimated value of property damage during 1981 was about one-third of that reported in 1980. The estimated value of property damage during 1981 totaled $2,870,950 compared to $8,574,687 in 1980.

INDEX OFFENSES BY CONTRIBUTOR

The tables on the following pages depict the total Crime Index Offenses, excluding arson, by county and agency for January through December, 1981. A column displaying 1980 Index totals has been provided for agency comparison. Also presented is the percent change by county and agency where sufficient months were on file to calculate the change.

The population coverage figures are presented in order to provide the base figures used to calculate the crime rate per 10,000 inhabitants. Population figures used in preparing this report were calculated based on data provided by the U.S. Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census, 1980 Census of Population and Housing, and the State of Wyoming, Department of Administration and Fiscal Control, Division of Research and Statistics, Wyoming Population and Employment Forecast, 4th Edition.

The crime rate per 10,000 inhabitatnts was not calculated for those agencies with less than twelve months on file and those agencies were excluded from the county and state rate.

If any agency should desire to recalculate any of these figures using their own county or city population figures, the formula is as follows:

$$\text{Rate} = \frac{x}{y} \times 10{,}000$$

Where: x = the number of offenses (or that for which the rate per per 10,000 is desired)

y = the population base

To alter the "rate" figure, simply substitute any other number for 10,000 (i.e. 1,000, 500, 250, etc).

STOLEN AND RECOVERED PROPERTY

Supplementary reports relating to the value of property stolen and recovered are also provided by the participating law enforcement agencies. This supplementary report requires a value to be established for property stolen and recovered for each Crime Index offense. The determination of the value of property stolen is an obligation of the investigating officer. The following suggested procedures aid in this determination.

A. Use fair market value for items subject to depreciation.

B. Use the wholesale cost of goods stolen from retail establishments, warehouses, etc.

C. The victims evaluation of non-depreciable items.

D. Use replacement cost or actual cash cost to victim for new or almost new items.

Additional Guidelines:

A. When recovered property is in a condition different from what it was at the time of the theft, the value at the time of recovery is used even though it is less than at the time it was stolen.

B. The value of property counted only refers to those crimes which occur in that jurisdiction and the value of property recovered includes only property originally stolen from that jurisdiction. However, it does not matter who recovers the property or where it was recovered.

The tables and charts on the following pages illustrate the data provided by these supplemental reports.

PERSONS ARRESTED

Although primarily an indication of law enforcement activity, the number of arrests provides a limited profile of the perpetrators of crime, especially for those crimes which have high clearance rates. Differences in arrest practices, policies, and enforcement emphasis among agencies influence the volume of arrests for various offenses, particularly those against public order, i.e., drunkenness, vagrancy, disorderly conduct and related violations. However, arrests for serious crimes, e.g., robbery or burglary, are more likely to be consistent and uniform throughout all jurisdictions. Procedures employed in the UCR Program require that an arrest be counted on each separate occasion an individual is taken into custody, notified or cited for committing an offense in that jurisdiction. Also, although several charges may be placed against a person at the time of arrest, only one arrest is counted each separate time he is taken into custody.

Law enforcement agencies in Wyoming effected 28,529 arrests during 1981. This figure is up 1.8 percent from the 28,018 arrests recorded in 1980.

During 1981, arrests of persons under 18 years of age decreased 7.3 percent over 1980, while arrests of persons 18 years of age and over rose 3.9 percent. When only arrests for Crime Index Offenses (murder and non-negligent manslaughter; forcible rape; robbery, aggravated assault; burglary; larceny-theft; motor vehicle theft; and arson) were used to compute a trend, arrests of persons under 18 years of age increased 14.9 percent and arrests of persons 18 years of age and over increased by 14.6 percent, compared to 1980. Overall, total arrests for Crime Index Offenses noted a 14.7 percent increase in the volume of arrests in 1981 when compared to 1980.

Statewide, arrests of persons under 15 years of age for all offenses made up 4.4 percent of the arrests, 17.0 percent were under 18 years of age, 36.2 percent were under 21, and 56.7 percent of those arrested were under age 25.

Additional analysis of figures on arrests of youthful offenders showed that persons under 25 years of age comprised 71.1 percent of those arrested for Crime Index Offenses, 44.7 percent of those arrested for the violent crimes, and 76.6 percent of those arrested for the property crimes.

When comparing only the Crime Index Offenses (including arson), 12.5 percent of those arrested in Wyoming during 1981 were under 15 years of age, 31.9 percent were under the age of 18, and 53.9 percent were under 21 years of age.

Arrests of males increased 1.4 percent over 1980 and female arrests increased 4.2 percent for all offenses. Arrests of males outnumber those of females by nearly 6 to 1 with males accounting for 82.9 percent of the arrests for Index Crimes and 92.5 percent of those for crimes of violence. Female arrests for Index Crimes climbed 36.4 percent from 1980. Their criminal involvement continues to be related mainly to larceny, which accounted for 81.4 percent of all female arrests for Index Offenses.

Depicted on the tables that follow is Wyoming arrest data for 1981. The first two tables represent State total summaries which is followed by Wyoming arrests by county and agency.

It should be noted here that juvenile arrests are in accordance with the age definition of a juvenile under the National Uniform Crime Reporting Program (a person under 18 years of age).

LAW ENFORCEMENT PERSONNEL

The law enforcement employee rates presented in the following tables should be viewed as guides or indicators, not as recommended or desirable police strengths. Because of the wide variations in the law enforcement responsibilities across the State, caution should be used when attempting any comparison of employee rates. Just as many factors affect the extent and type of crime from place to place, the conditions present in any given community affect the type of police service required. Adequate manpower for a specific locale can only be determined after careful study and analysis of the various conditions which contribute to the requirements for law enforcement service in that jurisdiction.

OFFENSES IN UNIFORM CRIME REPORTING

Offenses in Uniform Crime Reporting are divided into two groupings designed as Part I and Part II crimes. Information on the number of Part I Offenses known to law enforcement, the number cleared by arrest or exceptional means, and the number of persons arrested is reported monthly. Arrest data are reported for Part I and Part II offenses.

The Part I Offenses are as follows:

1. Criminal Homicide - a. Murder and Non-Negligent Manslaughter: the willful (non-negligent) killing of one human being by another. Deaths caused by negligence, attempts to kill, assaults to kill, suicides, accidental deaths, and justifiable homicides are excluded. Justifiable homicides are limited to: (1) the killing of a felon by a law enforcement officer in the line of duty; and (2) the killing of a felon by a private citizen. b. Manslaughter by Negligence: the killing of another person through gross negligence. Excludes traffic fatalities. While manslaughter by negligence is a Part I crime, it is not included in the Crime Index.

2. Forcible Rape - The carnal knowledge of a female forcibly and against her will. Included are rapes by force and attempts or assaults to rape. Statutory offenses (no force used-victim under age of consent) are excluded.

Examples are thefts of bicycles or automobile accessories, shop-lifting, pocket-picking, or the stealing of any property or article which is not taken by force and violence or by fraud. Attempted larcenies are included. Embezzlement, "con" games, forgery, worthless checks, etc., are excluded.
